

Gerry Dube

Gerry is a senior tech executive with over 30 years' experience in both large enterprises and startup companies. He specializes in data processing and business services for preparation and organization. As a distinguished pragmatist he was an integral VP at Sun Microsystems that was successfully sold to Oracle in 1994. Since 2012 Gerry has worked as President and CEO of Naples based services company, Timeframe Ventures, Inc. providing data processing and business preparation schedules. Gerry is a graduate of the University of Notre Dame.